ANAHITA

And now, today's headlines. In Broadway news, Julie Taymor is set to direct the upcoming musical adaptation of My Little Pony. Early critics report that the actress playing Twilight Sparkle is a little hoarse.

PERENNIAL

Well those critics sound like a bunch of naysayers.

ANAHITA

The National Museum of Censorship has recently announced a new exhibit: Mississippi Gosh Darn: Protest Songs of the South. This comes on the heels of their last exhibit: "They're Just Wrestling": Love-making in Family Cinema.

PERENNIAL

Speaking of Whoopie, star of stage and screen, Whoopie Goldberg, has joined us in the studio today! Whoopie, it is such a pleasure to have you. Yes, she is nodding along. Alright, well Whoopie's gotta head out of here! But thank you for joining us, Whoopie! And Whoopie is waving goodbye.

ANAHTA

And now our FNU Reviews segment: Eschner Assesses.

PERENNIAL

Anahita, today's review is of the (airquote) "family" (airquote) film, Hocus Pocus. If you ask me, Hocus Pocus needs to HOCUS FOCUS on being a little less spooky for mainstream audiences. Let me tell you something, I was in my personal "man" den enjoying a bowl of seasonal squash soup, and this outrageous - dare I say zany - feature appears on my television box. It was as if SOMEONE put a spell on ME and that spell was sheer horror! Suck the lives out of children before sunRISE? More like suck the urine out of my urethra, because I...piddled myself watching Bette Midler's little puckered lips! Rose's Turn? More like, "Rose, Turn Off the Boob Tube!" Because this motion picture was CRAP!...3 stars.

PERENNIAL

Whoa, amber is the color of my energy! And poetry is the color of my nook. Because it's now time for Anahita's Poetry Nook. Anahita?

ANAHTA

This is "Crackers to the Left of Me" by Ebony Winfall

To the left of me are those salty snacks I crave
 My body rejects that which oppresses
 To the right of me are those nimble crudite
 My mind rejects that which suppresses
 But what of my sodium?
 Electrolytes are important,
 Scientists say.
 Say Scientists,

"What about my soul?"
To the left of me are crackers
To the right of me are OF crackers
And I
Stand betwixt it all.

MUSIC. Outro.
